

3. To keep improving, rub elbows with the best minds in your field. Take every course and seminar available on the key skills that can help you. Do some research around conventions and business meetings in your profession or occupation, and use the calendar here to sketch out your next year of in-person learning.

January	February	March
April	May	June
July	August	September
October	November	December

Conference, Course, and Seminar Calendar